Beaver Brook, Pa. July 4. Claimant's father was at head of his son and forced him to walk home from the C. D. Deason & Co. store, where he was working. Michael Pupplek of Yorktown has had warrants issued by Aldermen (Goswell) for the arrest of Elmer L. Little, manager, and Frank Fleherty, bookkeeper of the store.

Answer to Saturday's puzzle: EPI

If you have money 'tied up' in real estate, a campaign of classed advertising will untie the knot.

This city's real estate is so valuable - its value is growing so rapidly - that a buyer can be found who will gladly pay a fair price for ANY PROPERTY THAT IS OFFERED.

If he could be found, always through the insertion of an ad, the selling problem would be too easy to interest grown-up people. But a reasonable campaign of advertising will find him!

GARFIELD TO MAKE WAR FOR REFORM
IN REP. PARTY

Cleveland, July 4.—James R. Garfield is organizing a fight to force the adoption of a progressive platform by the Republican state convention. A real Garfield boom is a pretty sure outcome of this, and his name undoubtedly will be presented to the convention for governor. If this Garfield boom materializes,
Frank Woods will have his name dropped.
Woods and his friends are co-operating with Garfield. Woods and Garfield had an extended conference in Cleveland. Garfield accepted an invitation to speak before the East
Cleveland Club of Progressive Republicans on July 11. That night Garfield will outline and expound the platform for which the progressive Republicans will fight.
This platform's main features will be:
The recall, with special application to judges.
State control of public utilities,
on the Woods bill lines.
A workman's compensation act,
similar to the British act.
The short ballot.
In the view of Garfield, Woods and their associates, the state ticket is less important than the state platform. Both Garfield and Woods show indifference to the prospect of office, but they are eager to begin the fight in Ohio to have the Republican party take the stand they believe it ought to take.
It is noteworthy that Garfield got busy with this business promptly on his return from Oyster Bay the first of last week.
Now Pinchot is arranging a trip to help several insurgents in their fight for congressional seats.
Garfield, immediately on his return home, began to call in Roosevelt men from all parts of Ohio. His office has fairly hummed all the week.
Like as it was and despite the fact that the convention delegates have all been selected, the reports that have come to Garfield have been surprisingly favorable.
Now the insurgents—or progressives, as Garfield calls them—are to unite on a definite program of concrete reforms. Garfield is careful to disclaim any Roosevelt source or authority for his platform, but there is more than a little evidence that the proposed declaration of principles has been hammered out with the help of all the insurgents, Roosevelt assisting.

THE BATTLE BALLAD OF THE FLAG A FOURTH OF JULY POEM BY ROBERTUS LOVE

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

FOR Liberty and Union, inseparable and one,
We pledge the blood and treasure of brother, sire and son,
Now and forever, even as ever heretofore,
To hold this flag in heaven our valiant fathers bore
When they stood like a rock
In the battle surge and shock
To front and slay the red array
Who Freedom's path would block.

AT Lexington and Concord, at glorious Bunker Hill,
At Brandywine and Monmouth, this banner floated still;
At Yorktown all triumphant it belied to the breeze,
A signal of defiance to tyrants over seas
Who had dared forge a chain
For the freemen of the brain,
For sturdy hands in birthright lands
This side the sundering main.

O'er Sumter's sullen ramparts, amid the wrath of lead,
Still proudly flew the symbol in white and blue and red;
At Gettysburg, Antietam, on Chattanooga Heights—
A hundred bloody battles, a thousand thrilling fights—
Still the flag fluttered there
In the rocket's lurid glare,
A staff of oak unshaken, unbroken,
A flash of colors fair.

SO, even at Manila, that deathless morn of May,
This banner streamed unstricken above the stricken bay,
And so at Santiago, Guasimas and San Juan
We set this beacon forward, where Valor urged us on,
And we raised o'er the town
As the conquered flag came down
This silken sign of peace benign,
Of progress and renown.

SO let us bear this standard, in battles yet to be,
Unstained above our columns, the cohorts of the free,
Nor ever loot and conquest inflame our fighting youth,
But only may they marshal for Justice and for Truth,
And heed, Columbia, heed!
By thy martyr's blood I plead,
Lest thou preface this flag for gain
And shame its stars for greed.

SCIENTISTS
Discover Pigmies in New Guinea
Which Belong to Negroite
Race.

London, July 4.—News has been received in England of a remarkable discovery that has been made by one of the most interesting scientific expeditions that have ever left these shores.
The expedition, which is composed of a party of English-British scientists, and owes its inception and organization to W. R. Ogilvie-Grant, was dispatched by the British Ornithologists' Union, in October last, to explore the Snow Mountains of New Guinea, of Papua, which is the largest unknown area on the surface of the earth.
The discovery is that of a strange race of pigmies of a color closely resembling that of a newly black-leaded stove.

The discovery of the new race of pigmies was made during the ascent of the Snow Mountains in Central New Guinea. At an elevation of about 2000 feet the expedition came across a tribe whose average height is about 4 feet 3 inches.

Although definite details are still lacking, there can be little doubt that this tribe belongs to the division of the human race known as the Negritos. The occurrence of the Ne-gritos in the Papuan subregion has in the past been a subject of much discussion, the view that they did not occur there finding wide acceptance among the anthropologists.

For a mild, easy season of the bow-

BOXING EVENTS IN NEAR FUTURE

A letter from Jimmie Dime, manager of the National Sporting Club of Pittsburgh, Pa., to the Manager of the Newark Amusement Co., contains the information that Percy Brannigan, the well known bantam weight, is in line for a 15 round glove contest at Newark, with Johnny Albanese, the Columbus lad who has forged rapidly to the front in his chosen profession. Brannigan will box Johnny Kilbane at Akron today, and Albanese is matched to meet Denning today at Anderson, Ind. The information is also conveyed that the contest may not occur soon, as Brannigan has been suffering lately from an affection of the appendix and if necessary an operation will be performed soon, and the little fellow will be given a rest of 30 days before meeting Albanese. This match has been looked forward to by Newark boxing fans for some time, and the fact that the bout has been successfully arranged will be a bit of good news.

Sammy Trout and Matty Brock will probably be the next card of the Newark Amusement company at the Auditorium theater, the date being set for some time during the third week of July, and the men are scheduled to travel 15 pounds. Everybody is anxious to see Trout in action again and Brock is the hardest man he has yet matched with.

Freddie Hicks, who left for Detroit last week to spend the Fourth with his parents, will return soon and go into training for a match with either Jack Dillon, Jack Morgan or Kid Ashe at Anderson, Ind., Springfield, or Akron. Jack Morgan is anxious for a contest in Newark, and as he is a top-notch fighter, it is very probable that he will be accommodated provided a man worthy his steel can be secured.

Among others who have expressed a desire to work in the arena of the Newark Amusement Co. during the summer and early fall are Denny Lyons of Cincinnati, Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland, and Tommy Kilbane also of the latter city. They will be given dates as soon as possible.

PROGRAM FOR CHAUTAUQUA AT BUCKEYE LAKE

The Buckeye Lake Chautauqua will open its second season at its grounds, which were formerly known as Summerland Beach, July 31, to continue two weeks. The closing day will be August 16. Rev. T. E. Haskins is the chautauqua superintendent and manager. Among the speakers announced are Col. George W. Bain, Walter Thomas Mills and Basil Barnhill, Walt Holcomb, Wm. Jennings Bryan, Dr. L. G. Herbert, Captain Richard P. Hobson, Lieut. Col. Lochwitzky, a Russian exile, Rev. C. E. Burton of Columbus, Dr. Ruel W. Roberts, Thos. P. Byrnes, Dr. John A. Macker, Mitt W. Waring, Dean Homer C. Price of the State Agricultural college, and Dr. Charles Darsie.

Music will be a feature of the program and in this part of the instruction and entertainment the following are announced: The Parland-Newhall company of Chicago; the Ernest Gamble Concert company; Donald C. McGregor, the Scotch baritone; Mary Dennison Gailie, violinist; Bert E. Williams, pianist, and the Lyric Glee club.

Among the novelties promised may be mentioned the "Hawatha Passion Play," by native offshoot Indians; "Sunset," a comedy drama by the Lyceum Dramatic club, a verse, "Betsey Baker," by Chestora McDonald Carr of Columbus, assisted by a score of people, and Professor and Mrs. Frank Hippa will present with their pupils, "The Merchant of Venice." Lulu Tyler dates will give readings.

TOOK NEWARKITE AT SAN FRANCISCO FOR TEX RICKARD

A letter received from the Newark correspondent at the big battle at Reno today states that every one in the party is well and having a good time. While in San Francisco last Wednesday, after visiting the Japanese and Chinese quarters, Harvey Marple, in a spirit of fun, informed the crowd that Tex Rickard was a member of the party, pointing out Mr. Charles Henry as that individual. Crowd after crowd joined in, and when the Newark men reached the hotel there were over a thousand people crowding for a view of the noted fight promoter in the world. Messrs. Schaller and Bader grabbed Mr. Henry and made him mount a chair and doff his hat. The crowd clamored for a speech, but the victim of the joke made a bee-line for his room and no inducements could cause him to emerge, although the crowd hung around the hotel corridor for over an hour.

TRIBUTE TO THE SIGNERS.

By ADLAI E. STEVENSON

FROM a Fourth of July address by the Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson, former vice president of the United States, the following vivid appreciation of the signers of the Declaration of Independence is taken:

Let us turn for a moment to the Continental congress assembled in Independence hall in Philadelphia on the Fourth day of July, 1776. One act of insult and oppression upon the part of the crown toward the colonies had followed another in rapid succession until the time had come when the representatives of the colonies were to decide in favor of abject submission to tyranny or to resolve to be forever free and independent. Upon the one side were the ties of country and a common ancestry, upon the other rebellion against the mother country and the commencement of a struggle the end of which no man could foretell; upon the one side unqualified submission to the dogma of the "divine right of kings," upon the other war with the greatest nation of the globe, with independence as the prize of victory and with defeat as surely the forerunner of infamy and death.

The men who signed this Declaration were not unmindful of the grave responsibilities which they assumed. It was no rash act upon their part. They well knew that Great Britain would never permit these colonies to be wrested from her grasp without a struggle. They well knew England, with her untold wealth, her powerful army and a navy that made her mistress of the seas, was a foe to be respected even by the strongest government upon the earth. To the imperishable honor of the signers of this Declaration be it said that they did not hesitate when the dread issues of that hour were to be decided.

The gospel of universal liberty had been proclaimed to the world. For ages mankind had believed there was "a divinity which doth hedge a king." The world was now startled from its lethargy by the declaration that "resistance to tyrants is obedience to God." The new gospel proclaimed by the signers of the Declaration of Independence was in conflict with that by which the world for generations had been governed. Boldly and unequivocally it challenged the doctrine of the divine right of kings. The barons of England at the point of the sword had wrested from an unwilling tyrant that Magna Charta which for ages had been the palladium of English liberty. Again and again during the reign of the long line of the predecessors of George III, some darling of prerogative of royal power had been grudgingly conceded to an exasperated people. But these were mere efforts to restrain within bounds, not to destroy, the one man power.

Our Declaration of Independence solemnly announced as a self evident truth that all men are born equal. It proclaimed as the cardinal feature of the social compact, as the very cornerstone of civil government, the absolute equality of all men. Government was declared to have been established among men for the benefit of the governed. What a glorious inheritance is this Declaration! What lofty statesmanship is breathed in its every utterance! Well did the great commoner of England exclaim, "The men who can so write deserve to be free."

Whence came the men who signed this Declaration? In what school of politics or philosophy did they learn these great truths? Who taught them the science of political government? From what loyal line of lawgivers did they spring? Unskilled in the diplomacy and craft that control cabinets and govern empires, they were the people raised up by an all wise Providence to overcome the obstacles and grapple with the dangers that threatened their liberties.

From the earliest struggles for the freedom of mankind to the days of Thomas Jefferson the men who in the halls of debate or on the field of battle have been the eloquent advocates of human rights or the bold defenders of human liberty have sprung from the ranks of the people.

Fellow citizens, the calm dignity with which this Revolution was inaugurated, the ties of allegiance surrendered, the solemn declaration made that henceforth these colonies were to be free and independent states and the solemn appeal of the representatives of the people to posterity for the rectitude of their intentions is one of the grandest and most imposing oaths in history. When in all time have any other people inaugurated revolution and confronted death with such fearless dignity? No bravado or violence marred the grandeur of this great act, but a calm recital of wrongs and oppressions is followed by the decisive step, and the solemn appeal to the Supreme Judge of the world.

How striking the contrast with other nations when in the throes of revolution! The history of the rebellion in England which preceded the commonwealth is marred by the violent disruption of the parliament and the execution of Charles I. The oppression and wrong of the French people at the close of the eighteenth century culminated in the scenes of violence that caused Paris to run with blood, and the mob that ruled the hour threw down at the foot of the throne the head of a king as its gage of battle.

The Glorious Liberty of the Children of God.

"The creature also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God" (Romans viii, 21)

reaction, when "This corruptible must put on incorruption." Then our minds will receive new, perfect spirit bodies, through which they can operate perfectly, and exercise, to the full, true liberty, true freedom.

The full liberty of the Children of God, therefore, is not attained in this present life, but will be attained in the resurrection, when we shall be perfected in the Master's likeness. And in this connection it is well to note that this is the liberty of the angels also—liberty of freedom from Sin, from the power and domination of error and superstition and weaknesses through heredity. All the angels were thus created, and father Adam and mother Eve also were thus created, in the full likeness of the children of God. Some lost their liberty by disobedience; they became slaves to Sin and Death, and have been more or less bound by these conditions from then until now. So, then, "The liberty of the children of God" is absolute perfection—the ideal condition for which the Church is striving.

The Groaning Creation.

The Apostle in our text is discussing the condition of the world of mankind in general. He reminds us that "the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now" (Romans viii, 22). In the nineteenth verse he tells us what they are waiting for, namely, "The earnest expectation of the (human) creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God."

The world of mankind is now enslaved to Sin and Death; they cannot help themselves; they must wait until God's time for setting them free from this bondage. God's time will come in connection with the glorification of the Church, and her manifestation with her Lord in the glories of his Messianic Kingdom. Then the groaning creation will be set free from the bondage of Sin and Death, under which it now groans and travaileth.

Made Subject to Vanity.

The Apostle reminds us that the slavery of mankind to Sin and Death came upon the world through vanity, or frailty, unwillingly. Our frailties are the result of sin and of the Divine sentence. Father Adam was disobedient and our Creator, in sentencing him to death, made the dying condition such that all of his children would be involved with him, as sinners, through heredity, and thus sharers in his dying condition. But God did not subject our race to this dying condition, this slavery to Sin and Death, with the intention of blighting the hope of humanity to all eternity, much less with the expectation of sending Adam and his race to eternal torture. Rather, we are to understand that when God pronounced the death sentence upon our race, intermingled with it was the hope, the desire, on the part of the Creator, that the result of that death sentence should not be man's absolute and eternal destruction, after the manner of the brute beast. In the Divine purpose there mingles a hope—a desire and intention that all of Adam's race who will learn the lesson of righteousness may ultimately be delivered from the bondage of Sin and Death, into the true liberty of children of God. It was to secure, in God's due time, for Adam and his race, liberty from Sin and Death, that Christ died for our sins.

The Creation to Be Delivered.

Our minds now turn to the liberty which, by God's grace, came to this nation in 1776; and, similarly, some of our nation look to the liberty that was accorded them by the "Emancipation Proclamation." But these emancipations are nothing in comparison with the great Emancipation which God purposes shall come to all the world of mankind through Christ. Enslaved to Sin, through Father Adam's disobedience, "Sold under sin," the purchase of the race by the precious blood of Christ is to be announced by the Great Judge who pronounced the sentence. This is a glorious hope, a glorious prospect, but as yet it is merely a prospect. Only the true Church has as yet been set free; and she waits for perfect freedom through the "First Resurrection." "The whole world lieth in the Wicked One," and still are slaves to Sin and Death conditions in every way. The arrangement of Divine Providence for this great liberation of the captives of Sin and Death is wonderful! God's Kingdom is to be established and to exercise his reign or rule of righteousness amongst men for a thousand years! Satan is to be bound during that period, that he may deceive and entrap humanity no more. The knowledge of God and the assistance of Divine power are to be extended to every creature, bond and free, rich and poor, of every tongue and nation. Not only will the living nations enjoy this privilege of release from slavery to Sin and Death, through the great Redeemer, but, additionally, all who are in their graves will have the glorious opportunity of being awakened and of being brought to a knowledge of the Truth, that they may be saved by laying hold thereon—by conforming heart and life to the rules of the Kingdom of God's dear Son, and thus attaining eternal life.

QUIET FOURTH.

By TOMMY TUCKER.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

It's the Fourth of July, and I simply can't sleep. As quiet as when I'm in bed and asleep.

If I didn't do things to stir up a riot I'd call in the doctor 'cause I was so quiet.

I don't see why folks should object to the noise of crackers and rockets shot off by the boys.

WHEN THE CANNONS AND CRACKERS GO "BOOM!"

Why, when they had battles there must have been more than two can turn out of the rattle and roar.

Besides, when the cannons and crackers go "boom" there's one way to make it as still as the tomb—

Just stick in your fingers and stop up your ears.

It can't be a noise when there's nobody hears.

A PEACEFUL PATRIOT.

By ALLEN ARTHUR.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

I BELIEVE in the creed of the Scriptures—The gospel of good will and peace.

That swords should be turned into plowshares and the warring of nations should cease.

But when comes the Fourth with its memories O' victories grand, I opine 'Ghar's one day at least when I'm takin'—

A little gunpowder in mine.

A LITTLE GUNPOWDER IN MINE.

To slaughter your brother is fearful. My spirit revolts at the thought.

'Tis better to practice the lessons that in the good gospel are taught.

But if I had a' been with those patriots whose names now in history shine

I feel that I, too, 'ave taken A little gunpowder in mine.

I know we're the grandest old nation that's set in the earth's diadem.

Our fathers secured it by fightin' (I wish I'd a' been along with them).

I'm peaceful an' ain't no ambition Among the world's warriors to shine.

But I'm ready to take, if the needful, A little gunpowder in mine.

Lancaster, July 2.—Lancaster made the Molders look like a bunch of school boys Saturday and played rings around the bunch without any trouble. The game was a very slow affair with the exception of the many bingles the Lanks got. At the end of the inning the score stood 11 to 0 in favor of the Lanks.

Ray Hollingsworth was the hurler for the Molders and the way the Lancaster crowd got to his delivery was a shame. He was pounded all over the lot for doubles and triples, and 14 hits were the day's spoils.

Starch McGuire did the heaving for the Lanks and pitched his first game in many moons. He was a bit wild but held the Molders to two hits and was steady in tight places. In the second inning the Molders had the bases full with no one out and failed to score.

The feature of the game was the batting of Ford and Hoffman, who whalloped the pill in every direction. In the first round with the bases full Ford hit one for three sacks, scoring the bunch. Blake at first played a grand game and received all kinds of throws without an error. The score:

Reno, July 4.—The deputy sheriff de- manded to preserve order and keep the crowd in check as paying no atten- tion to instructions. Scores of boys and men are climbing up the outside of the enclosure without hindrance. The asies are practically swamped. Reno, Nev., July 4.—Tex Rickard stepped into the ring at 2:00 and was announced by Jordan, who called him the "greatest sports in the world." The deputy at Reno, Colo., was barred this afternoon, wiping out the Western Union lines for a few minutes which caused some delay in telegraph service. Johnson entered the ring at 2:30 and was greeted by great cheering. He was given an ovation as he stepped through the ropes accompanied by Tom Flanagan, Barney Perry, Fred Sutton, Kip Cotton, Billy Drinnay and Johnny Loftus. As Jeffries walked down the aisle at 2:35 the crowd gave him a tremendous reception. He was accom- panied by Jim Corbett, Jack Jeffries, Joe Choyinski, Bob Armstrong, Abe Attell, Sam Berger and Roger Cornish. Johnson wore blue trunks and an American flag at his belt. His hands were bandaged with black adhesive tape. When Attell saw this he bound Jeffries' hands in white muslin. Before 10 a. m. the crowd began ar- riving. At 1 Rickard said 5000 people were on the outside clamoring for ad- mission. A moment later Gov. Dick- erson arrived. It is stated the "house" amounted to $250,000. "Tom Sharkey says he will challenge the winner and post $25,000. Rickard is disgusted with the way the crowd is handled and says he would not tackle it again for a million dol- lars. Jack Johnson and Mrs. Sig Hart attractively gowned, have just entered the arena and taken seats in front of the moving picture machines. Sullivan, Fitzsimmons, S. Sharkey, Frank Gotch and other celebrities were all cheered when introduced.

When Jeffries doffed his coat and trousers he revealed himself in short blue trunks, with an American flag about his belt. He gazed for a moment in Johnson's corner but turned his head without changing the expression on his face. At 2:45 all was ready and at 2:46 Tom Sharkey interrupted the proceedings by challenging the winner. Jeff took off his flag and they shook hands with the seconds. It was agreed that the men would not shake hands. The gong sounded at 2:46 1-2. Round One. They advanced cautiously. Jeff feinting with his left twice. Johnson lands left to right. Jeff punches. Johnson appears stronger in the clinches. Jeff feints left to head

left, but missed. He received a left jab to the ear and they clinch. Jack swings a heavy left to the chest. They clinch. In a furious rally, Jim sends a left hit to body and Jack replied by hammering his face. They clinch and Jack lands on Jeff's right eye, which is almost completely closed. Jeff is bleeding at the nose. They clinch at the bell. Johnson's round. The betting odds this morning 10 to 6 on Jeffries.

Round Eight. They spar at the opening and right into a clinch. Jack hooks to the ear with a left. Johnson sends light rights to head and retreats. In a half clinch Jeff pounds stomach. Clinch and Jack sends left to stom- ach. Johnson holding in the clinches. Jeff jabs to jaw but misses. John- son lands left to head. Clinched at the bell. This round went to John- son by a slight shade.

Round Nine. They clinch and Jeffries forces Johnson around the ring. Johnson rushed into a hard right stomach and ach. They clinch and Johnson lands left on stomach. They clinch and Jack took two jabs to the jaw. Jack broke heavy left to stomach and avoided right by clinching. Johnson turned and winked at the crowd. Jeffries prods his stomach with a left at the bell. Johnson's round by a shade.

DRY DETECTIVES ARE INFESTING CITY OF NEWARK

Information has come to Newark from Granville that twenty-four war- rants were issued upon affidavits filed before Mayor Barnes of Granville, the affidavits charging illegal selling of automobiles. The warrants were served upon sev- eral proprietors at Buckeye Lake on Monday morning, according to the ad- vocates informant, and in this con- nection the developments may come thick and fast. It is said that a number of warrants will be served upon Newark proprie- tors, and that the Anti-Saloon league has employed some foreign detectives, among whom can be found some of the members of the famous "Lake Shore gang," who, in the service of warrants are prepared to go to any extreme to attain their purpose.

KIDNAPING

Will Hereafter Be Punished With Death Sentence in State of Louisiana.

Baton Rouge, La., July 4.—Kid- napping is to be made a capital of- fense in Louisiana, both principals and accomplices being held culpable for the inflicting of the death pen- alty. A measure to this effect was passed almost unanimously in the house, and it was stated that no real opposition will develop against the bill in the senate.

HATPIN PIERCED WOMAN'S BRAIN

Boone, Iowa, July 4.—A large hat- pin penetrated four inches in the brain of Mrs. Peter McDonald, when she, with a companion, Mrs. Andrew Simp- son, was thrown from a buggy in a runaway. The two women were driv- ing down a steep hill when the rear became frightened and ran away. Half way down the hill both women were hurled to the ground. Mrs. McDonald striking on her head. The two women were brought to hospital here. It is believed both fatally injured.

FIRE DESTOYS WING OF PALACE

St. Petersburg, July 4.—One wing of the czar's summer palace, Peterhof was destroyed by fire, inflicting a loss of several thousand dollars. There was no casualty.

DATES AND FACTS ABOUT THE FIGHT

Jack Johnson defeated Tommy Burns in Australia, Dec. 26, 1908, winning the world's championship. Jan. 15, 1909, Jeffries came from retirement, appearing in San Fran- cisco. In April he announced that he would fight Johnson. He posted his fight of $5000 in New York on July 28. Johnson put up his money August 2. On August 5 Jeffries sailed for Ger- many with his wife, returning to Am- erica in October. Jeff and Jack met October 29 and signed their articles. November 1, Rickard were ward- ed off the 15th December 3, upon their fight of a $5000. Fight to be 45 rounds, purse to be divided 75 and 25 per cent. On Jan. 22 Rickard said the fight would take place at Salt Lake City, but later the place was changed to San Francisco. April 5 Jeffries opened training and Johnson began training at Oc- tober 10. May 15, Johnson said "Now a few days later to Karl announced the location of Reno." On June 22 Jeff reached Reno fol- lowed June 24 by Johnson. Plymouth, Eng., July 4.—On the anniversary of the day England lost her American possessions, approx- imately 200 sailing ships with an aggregate displacement of more than 1,000,000 tons today began sail- ing from the south coast.

In Woman's Realm

Miss Marie Martin of Evans street entertained about thirty of her young friends on Friday evening with a bachelorette party. Artistic programs, containing five dances, filled the evening's pleasure, together with the serving of refreshing punch and later dainty refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Armstrong chaperoned the young people among whom the out of town guests were Miss Jane Walton of Urbana and Miss Sylvia Snyder of Washington C. H.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Swartz of Grant street are today celebrating their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary at their home. This evening Mr. and Mrs. Swartz will entertain about a hundred of their local and out of town friends with a six o'clock dinner of elaborate appointments.

FRYE—TARGETT.
A quiet wedding occurred Thursday evening, June 30th, when Mr. William H. Frye and Miss Florence Targett were united in marriage at the parsonage of the Central Church of Christ. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple returned to their newly furnished home, 42 Allen street, where a few intimate friends had assembled to extend best wishes and congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Frye have the best wishes of their acquaintances and celery, and a tablespoonful of nasturtium seeds, a piece of green pepper pod and half a teaspoonful of sweet herbs, with water to cover. Let simmer until the cucumber is tender, then press through a very fine sieve. Season with salt, pepper and a tablespoonful of lemon juice. Then add for each pint of liquid one-third of a package of gelatin softened in one-third of a cupful of cold water and dissolve over hot water. Tint delicately with green vegetable color paste and turn into molds to harden. Serve with any salad dressing in the same way that tomato jelly is used.

Raspberry Buns.
Scald five cupfuls of milk. When cool add one teaspoonful of salt, one yeast cake and sufficient flour to make a drop batter. Beat well and set aside to cool. Cream together one pound of butter and one pound of sugar and stir it into the sponge when light. Add more flour to make a soft dough and set aside to rise a second time. Make up into small round buns, cut a slit in the bottom of each and work in a half of a teaspoonful of raspberry jam, pinch the cut together and place the buns on greased tin, cut side downward. When light bake in a hot oven and wash over with a little beaten egg white hot.

Cherry Sponge.
Soak one-half of a box of gelatin in one-half of a cupful of cold water. Put one quart of stemmed cherries, steep the pits in one cupful of hot water for half an hour, then strain. Add to the water one cupful of sugar, bring to the boiling point and boil for three minutes. Pour over the cherries, cover and let stand for ten minutes, then press all through a colander. Dissolve the gelatin over hot water, add to the cherry mixture and set away until it begins to thicken. Add the well beaten whites of three eggs and beat on ice until all is thick and light. Turn into a wetted mold and set in a cold place until firm.

One Cause of Bad Coffee.
The cause for unpalatable coffee may often be traced to the cotton bag used in making it. Coffee, like butter and milk, has the quality of absorbing flavors from other foods, and if the bag has not been properly cleaned it may be sure to take the edge from the flavor of the coffee. The bag cannot be scalded in soupsuds and ever again be free from a taint of the suds. Once a week is not too often to make a fresh bag from new cheesecloth. After use it should be washed in clear water and be scalded and dried.

To Make Pineapple Jelly.
One of the problems frequent with young housewives is why pineapple is so hard to make into jelly even with gelatin. Old housewives know that the pineapple should be cooked before it goes into the jelly. A glance at the gelatin box will probably reveal the same advice.

A BRIDE AND HER ATTENDANT.

White satin, of the soft supple kind, was used in the making of a wedding gown patterned after above model. The underskirt is plain, with a beautifully draped tunic, bordered with a deep band of rose point lace, and falling in graceful folds to hem of trained skirt. The bodice, cut in a deep V front and back, has a full of lace around top, deep enough over shoulders to form sleeve caps. There is a guimpe with long sleeves and high stock of fine white silk tulle, which may be removed after the wedding day.

AN EXAMPLE TO FOLLOW.
St. Louis Health Commissioner Takes Steps to Keep Lots Clean.

A new work that will indeed be of wonderful assistance in the improvement and development of towns and cities is keeping the vacant lots in fair class shape. Civic neatness is the road to town progress. Therefore get busy and follow the example of Assistant Health Commissioner Jordan of St. Louis.

It was through his constant fighting that the city passed an ordinance making it a crime to allow weeds to grow in the vacant spaces. And Mr. Jordan will see that this is lived up to. He has announced that it will be enforced this year by the issuance of police summonses against offenders. In a letter to a leading newspaper declaring his purpose and asking for the aid of publicity in his campaign Dr. Jordan says:

The season is at hand when it will be necessary for this department to enforce the ordinance regarding the cutting of weeds. It is absolutely impossible to make any headway in this work if we adopt the course of giving notice in each case, as it has been our experience in the past that such notices in a large majority of cases are unheeded, and it will be the policy of this department where weeds of one foot in height or over are found on vacant property to cause a police court summons to be issued against the owner.

The law does not require any notice in these cases, but it is not the desire of the department to take snap judgment on any one.

The penalty for violation of the weed ordinance is fixed at not less than $10 or more than $100.

THINGS TO GO AWAY WITH.

Less Smoke, Dirt and Noise Will Make "City Beautiful."

Less noise, less dirt and less smoke will do a great deal to make a town or city a place of beauty and comfort. This was the substance of an address by Mrs. Imogene B. Casey made recently in Philadelphia.

"The citizens of this city are as much to blame for the dirty streets as the street cleaning department," she said. "If nothing were thrown in the streets there would be less to clean up. Havana today is perhaps the cleanest city in the world and has a low death rate. 'There is a law in this city which provides a fine of $5 for any one caught throwing things into the streets. Who ever heard of its being enforced? 'The smoke nuisance is another evil that we should not be forced to contend with. Last year alone in this country smoke damage amounted to $800,000,000. The railroad companies entering this city say that they cannot do away with black smoke. It has been done in England and in many cities in our own country.

"DEPOT SQUARE."

"And then we have the noise evil to contend with. In many cities vendors are not allowed to call out their wares. They do as much business as ours do here with all their yelling. Other cities have done away with that form of legalized begging known as street music."

Now, there is one more thing that is essential for the uplifting of a village, and that is keeping the public square in neat condition. Many towns that one visits have what is commonly termed a "depot square." As a rule, one will find that square littered with papers and in a sad plight. It would be well for the citizens if they would see to it that that portion of their town is kept clean, for while it remains in a filthy condition settlers will not be overanxious to come in and the progress of the town will be at a standstill.

An Improvement to Boston Parks.
The old wooden settees that for more than a quarter of a century have been used in the common and public garden and the other city parks have given away to a new style of bench composed of concrete and wood. This style of settee is considered far more comfortable and durable than the wooden bench, and within a week or two all the public parks and playgrounds will be equipped with them. The framework of the new bench is of concrete, with wooden backs and seats.

OBITUARY

CHARLES VOHN.

Charles Vohn, aged 28 years, a flintworker by trade and who lived in this city about two years ago, died at his home in Columbus Saturday evening at 5 o'clock, following an operation of a few days previous. He is survived by a wife and daughter, and a mother, Mrs. Lucinda Vohn, of West Main street, Newark. The remains were brought to this city on the 11:55 B. and O. train today and taken to the undertaking parlors of Criss Bros. & Jones. Funeral services will be held in the chapel at Cedar Hill cemetery Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, followed by interment.

MISS BLANCH IRWIN.

Miss Blanch Irwin, aged 30 years, who has resided for several years on Summer street, in Texas, and was employed at the Jackson Hotel, died at the Newark Sanitarium Sunday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock, of peritonitis. Miss Irwin was confined to her bed at her home and was removed to the Sanitarium just an hour and a half before she expired. The deceased leaves two brothers in this city, T. C. and J. J. Irwin. The remains were taken to the home of T. C. Irwin, 329 Eddy street, where funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon, followed by burial in Cedar Hill cemetery.

PHILIP ODIN.

Philip Odin, aged 26 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Odin of 31 Wing street, died at the home of his parents Sunday morning at 2 o'clock after an illness covering a period of about six years of tuberculosis. The deceased has resided in Newark the greater part of his life. Besides the parents, he is survived by a brother, Fred, of this city; a half sister, Mrs. Lucy Irwin, of Columbus, and two half brothers, Elmer and Samuel Odin of this city.

The obsequies will be conducted in the East Main street M. E. church Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock and burial will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery. The funeral will be in charge of the Modern Woodmen.

DOROTHY MARIE MUMMEY.

Dorothy Marie Mumme, aged three years, eleven months and nineteen days, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Mumme of 154 Jackson street, died at the home Sunday evening at nine o'clock of a complication of diseases peculiar to children. Funeral services will be held on Tuesday but the exact hour and place have not yet been decided upon.

Women and Patriotism.

of today all ours, one mentioned are forcibly before in and that is suffrage. gallantly of prev of man's is being al and of the family in which the man only directs, and the woman simply obeys, in whose direction she has no voice at all, is not so well cared for as the one in which the feminine judgment plays also its part in directing. This is as true of the national life as of the individual family life. The man can have his part of the actual work, the woman hers; but when it comes to talking the work over, or planning how it can be best done, or in practice, voting, woman's judgment is needed if it is not to be a one-sided and only half done performance.

Every woman who knows anything at all about home life knows this to be true. The symmetrical family life is that in which the man and woman work together for the good of the whole family. And this same combination is needed for the best results nationally and municipally.

Every fair-minded person will admit that in school matters, in police and legal matters relating to women and children, in the matter of the cleanliness of cities, in all such things as these, woman's advice and judgment are helpful. And all these are back of the voting. It is what the voting is for.

The objections brought forward of neglecting the home, of unsexing herself, and a dozen others, are all trivial side issues. Woman has not neglected her duties in the past. She has measured up to every new responsibility that has been thrust upon her. It isn't likely she will begin becoming negligent now when this new duty presents itself. It will simply mean added growth and strength, a nearer approach to the perfect stature of a woman, when hand in hand with man she works with him for the good of the great national family of which both are a part.

GARFIELD TO MAKE WAR FOR REFORM IN REP. PARTY

Cleveland, July 4.—James R. Garfield is organizing a fight to force the adoption of a progressive platform by the Republican state convention. A real Garfield boom is a pretty sure outcome of this, and his name undoubtedly will be presented to the convention for governor. If this Garfield boom materializes, Frank Woods will have his name dropped.

Woods and his friends are co-operating with Garfield. Woods and Garfield had an extended conference in Cleveland. Garfield accepted an invitation to speak before the East Cleveland Club of Progressive Republicans on July 11. That night Garfield will outline and expound the platform for which the progressive Republicans will fight.

This platform's main features will be:

The recall, with special application to judges.
State control of public utilities, on the Woods bill lines.
A workman's compensation act similar to the British act.

The short ballot.
In the view of Garfield, Woods and his associates, the state ticket is less important than the state platform. Both Garfield and Woods show indifference to the prospect of office, but they are eager to begin the fight in Ohio to have the Republican party take the stand they believe it ought to take.

It is noteworthy that Garfield goes busy with this business promptly on his return from Oyster Bay the first of last week.

Now Pinchot is arranging a trip to help several insurgents in their fights for congressional seats.

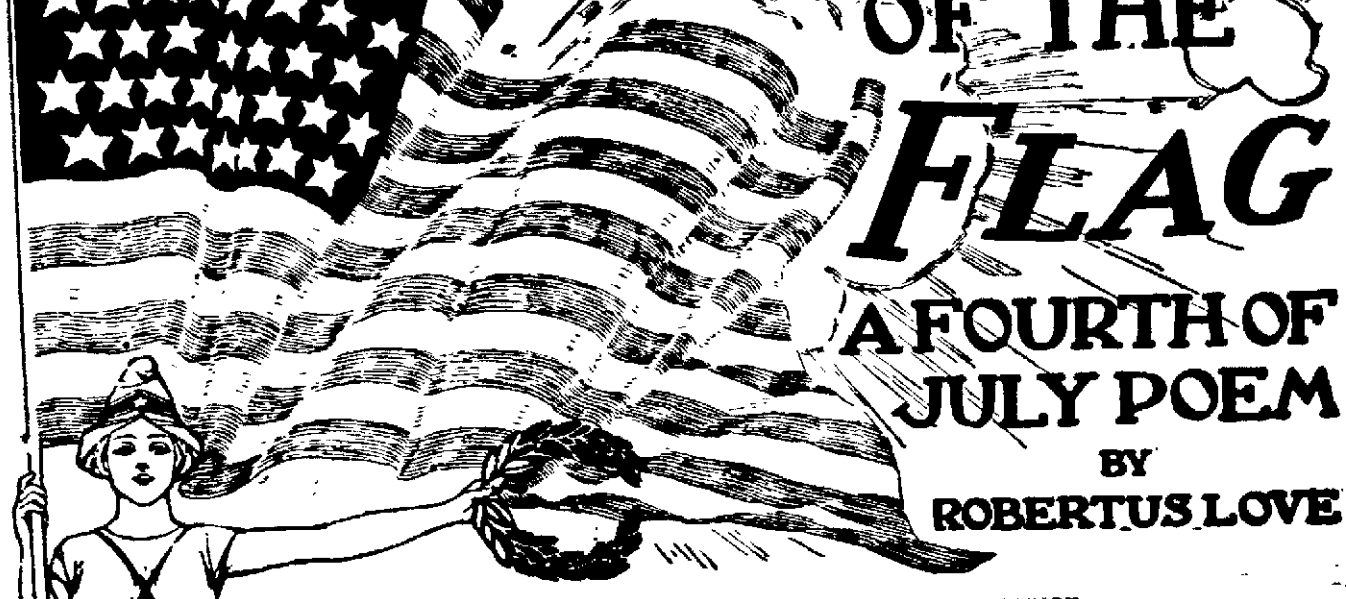

Garfield, immediately on his return home, began to call in Roosevelt men from all parts of Ohio. His office has fairly hummed all the week.

Like as it was and despite the fact that the convention delegates have all been selected, the reports that have come to Garfield have been surprisingly favorable.

Now the insurgents—or progressives, as Garfield calls them—are to unite on a definite program of concrete reforms. Garfield is careful to disclaim any Roosevelt source or authority for his platform, but there is more than a little evidence that this proposed declaration of principles has been hammered out with the help of all the insurgents, Roosevelt assisting.

THE BATTLE BALLAD OF THE FLAG

A FOURTH OF JULY POEM
BY ROBERTUS LOVE

COPYRIGHT, 1916, BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

FOR Liberty and Union, inseparable and one,
We pledge the blood and treasure of brother, sire and son,
Now and forever, even as ever heretofore,
To hold this flag in heaven our valiant fathers bore
When they stood like a rock
In the battle surge and shock
To front and slay the red array
Who Freedom's path would block.

AT Lexington and Concord, at glorious Bunker Hill,
At Brandywine and Monmouth, this banner floated still;
At Yorktown all triumphant it belted to the breeze,
A signal of defiance to tyrants over seas
Who had dared forge a chain
For the foremen of the brain
For sturdy hands in birthright lands
This side the sundering main.

O'er Sumter's cullen ramparts, amid the wrath of lead,
Still proudly flew the symbol in white and blue and red;
At Gettysburg, Antietam, on Chattanooga Heights—
A hundred bloody battles, a thousand thrilling fights—
Still the flag fluttered there
In the rockets' lurid glare,
A staff of oak unbowed, unbroken,
A flash of colors fair.

SO, even at Manila, that deathless morn of May,
This banner streamed unstricken above the stricken bay,
And so at Santiago, Guisamar and San Juan
We set this beacon forward, where Valor urged us on,
And we raised o'er the town
The conquered flag came down
This silent sign of peace benign,
Of progress and renown.

SO let us bear this standard, in battles yet to be,
Unstained above our columns, the cohorts of the free,
Nor ever loat and conquest inflame our fighting youth,
But only may they marshal for Justice and for Truth,
And heed, Columbia, heed!
By thy martyrs' blood I plead,
Lest thou profane this flag for gain
And shame its stars for greed.

SCIENTISTS

Discover Pigmies in New Guinea Which Belong to Negro Race.

London, July 4.—News has been received in England of a remarkable discovery that has been made by one of the most interesting scientific expeditions that have ever left these shores.

The expedition, which is composed of a party of eminent British scientists, and owes its inception and organization to W. R. Odlum-Grant, was dispatched by the British Ornithologists' Union, in October last, to explore the Snow Mountains of New Guinea, of Papua, which is the largest unknown area on the surface of the earth.

The discovery is that of a strange race of pigmies of a color closely resembling that of a newly black-leaded stove.

The discovery of the new race of pigmies was made during the ascent of the Snow Mountains in Central New Guinea. At an elevation of about 2000 feet the expedition came across a tribe whose average height is about 4 feet 3 inches.

Although definite details are still lacking, there can be little doubt that this tribe belongs to the division of the human race known as the Negritos. The occurrence of the Negritos in the Papuan subregion has in the past been a subject of much discussion, the view that they did not occur there finding wide acceptance among the anthropologists.

For a full description of the people, a single copy of "The Negritos of New Guinea" can be obtained by sending a box of 100 cigarettes to the publisher.

Returns of the Jeffries-Johnson fight will be received at Schaller Bros.

NO FUND FOR FOURTH.

By ROBERT DONNELL

"THE" ain't a-go' to be no Fourth celebratin' at Slocum's Slough this year," said Uncle Si Slocum at the grocery store while he was unloading a big farm wagon cargo of fresh vegetables, berries and other good things to eat which he was selling to the grocer for cash.

"Why's that, Uncle Si?" asked the grocer clerk. "I was thinkin' o' comin' out myself an' celebratin' long with your three boys an' the Brown boys an' Henry Hillers. I know they burn up lots of fireworks every Fourth."

"Yep," said Uncle Si. "but this Fourth it's a-go' to be different. The great American eagle will have to flap his wings some'er else this time, I reckon, an' jest let Slocum's Slough be lonesome-like."

"What's the trouble?" "Money's too skeerce," replied Uncle Si, pocketing $49.85 which he had received for his load of produce. One of those fine, fat fellows, a honked dollar bill, disclosed itself to the clerk's view when Mr. Slocum opened his pocketbook.

"Why, your crops seem to be fine, Mr. Slocum," said the clerk, "an' I s'posed prosperity was sittin' on every fence rail around these parts, singin' siren songs o' cheer, so to speak."

"The' ain't no famine, that's a fact," Uncle Si returned, "but all the same cash is too skeerce down 't the Slough for the boys to celebrate proper."

"Paid off your mortgage last year, didn't you?"

"Yep, an' bought the eighty acres o' bottom land right south o' me too, but prices o' things is terrible high this year, you know."

"That may be," said the clerk, "but we're payin' you terrible high prices for your produce, Mr. Slocum. I cert'ly can't just finger out how 'tis the' ain't no money for fireworks in your neighborhood."

"Well, then, sence you ask me, I'll tell you, young feller. You see, my three boys an' the two Brown boys an' Henry Hillers is all a-go' off 't college this nex' September."

"Oh, I see—got to save up their money fer books an' board an' tuition."

"Well, not zackly that, fer us old folks pays them bills. Them boys is all powerful ambitious 't git 'long well in college an' shine bright in the public eye."

"Want to take special courses in Greek or somethin', I reckon?"

"Well, no; but they've all got 't gether an' agreed 't save up their Fourth o' July 'lowance to buy football clothes an' cigarette cases."

Yes, by George!

Now let the Imperial eagle screech, the soaring orator start his speech; throughout the land from beach to beach the bands begin to play.

The liberty of which you've heard we bought with blood from George the Third, and still it is no empty word, whatever croakers say.

Though here and there a tiny rift appears in freedom's birthday gift, it's lasted down to George the Fifth—and so hooray, hooray!

A DOUBLE CHIN.

How to Get Rid of One by Paying Attention to Diet and Exercise.

If you have a double chin you must give up the wearing of tight collars, as they never fail to give one the baggy pouch of the confirmed double chin. See to it that your stocks are loose and not very high. If your neck is not too thin for the fashion make a practice of wearing the collarless dresses so popular now. They will give your throat an opportunity to bend and turn, and in this way the muscles get the needed exercise. Tight high collars hold the throat as in a vise, and the muscles underneath the chin become flabby.

Eating between meals and late at night is sure to cause a double chin and very often a triple chin. If you eat lobster a la Newburg or perhaps a sweet just before retiring you will be sure to wake up next morning with an extra layer of flesh under your pretty chin.

A strenuous exercise warranted to reduce chins is as follows: Stand erect in front of your mirror, put a hand on either hip and take a deep breath, filling the lungs to the fullest extent. Hold the breath and lift your extra chin ten sharp blows with the back of your hand. Strike hard enough to make the tears come to your eyes. Now exhale. Once more inhale and slap the unwanted folds of flesh with your left hand. If you will practice this exercise for five minutes every morning the extra chin will melt away in a very short space of time.—New Idea Woman's Magazine For June.

Planning Town and City.

When anything is said or written of "the city beautiful" or a city "group plan" the comment of the average person is: "Delightfully ideal! A fine thing for big cities like New York, Chicago and Boston. It really ought to be done some time. But the cost is terrific!" The idea that should be kept in mind is that any kind of city improvement is absolutely practical and profitable; that it is not only for big cities, but for the smallest town or village; that it is needed by every suburban real estate development; also that it is not costly. It need not mean a huge debt. Moreover, city improvement in any form is easily inaugurated. A few citizens of any community who have the right standards of life can start on its way a movement for city betterment that will eventually bring numberless advantages to all the citizens.

SUCCESSFUL CO-OPERATION.

Upland, Kan., Possesses Three Mutual Concerns.

FARMERS RUN EVERYTHING.

Conduct Business of Insurance Company, Store and Telephone Service Profitably and at Small Cost—Officers Receive $2 a Day For Their Labor.

A very interesting experiment in co-operation is under way in Upland, a town in Dickinson county, Kan. The town itself is not large, but is the headquarters of three successful mutual companies—a telephone company, an insurance organization and a mortuallary corporation.

The town is on top of the divide between the Republican and Smoky Hill rivers and four miles from the town of Alda, through which runs a branch of the Union Pacific railroad. A big store building, a telephone exchange which also houses the insurance company, a blacksmith shop, a town hall and four or five residences constitute the greater part of the town.

The community idea took root a time ago. A meeting of farmers called to take up the question of mutual insurance. A company was organized, and each farmer was constituted an agent without pay to solicit members. It was decreed that time a fire occurred an assessment should be levied to make good the six years later it had 241 members with $168,000 insurance in force. It has 3,500 members, with assets representing $4,000,000.

When the company started in business it was decided that $2 a day was enough to pay any officer, an amount has never been raised since paid only when the officers. The average yearly salary list $200, due to the simple method which records are kept and that everybody pays his share promptly under pain of being at once.

Later farmers decided to creamery. Then the advantage of a farm separator caused it to be up, as there was more money in the cream to the creaming stations. One of the number of farmers were their tickets from the creamery suggested that it would be easy to bring farm produce to the milk every morning, have a store? Within co-operative organization of $25,000 was formed part of this was used in buying, but the store has been able to the stock is quite and the cash value of its around $35,000.

Once a year the stockholders the town hall, hear the clear a good big dividend. No one is permitted more than $100 worth of this entitles him to one articles each stockholder self to sell all of his stock to the Golden Rule is its incorporated name.

The business is large. Farm produce brought to the man who he is debited with of groceries and dry-groceries are made a month.

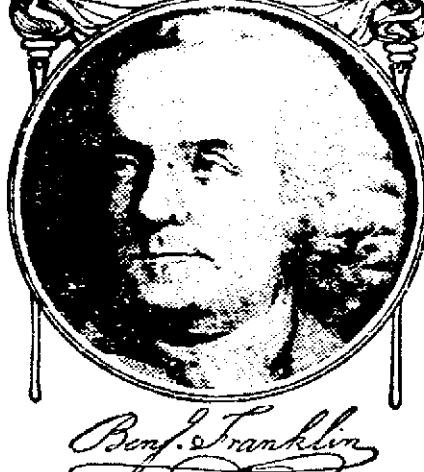

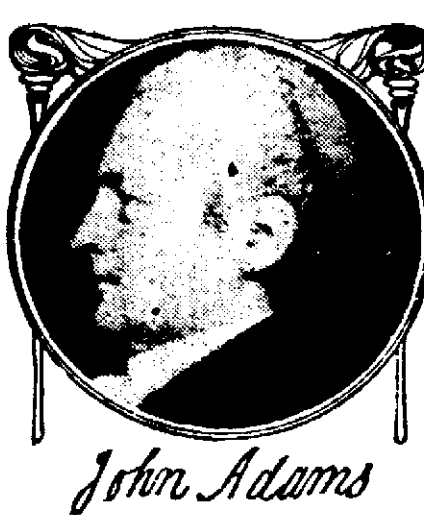

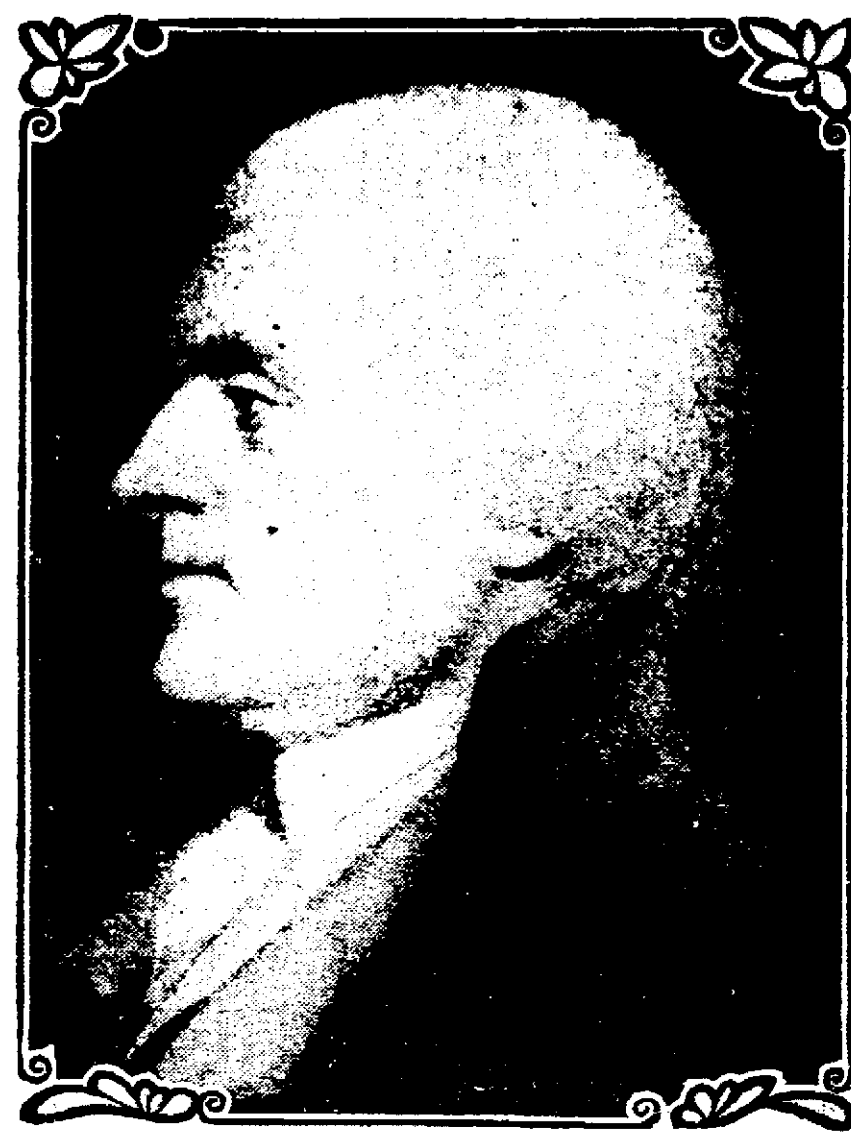

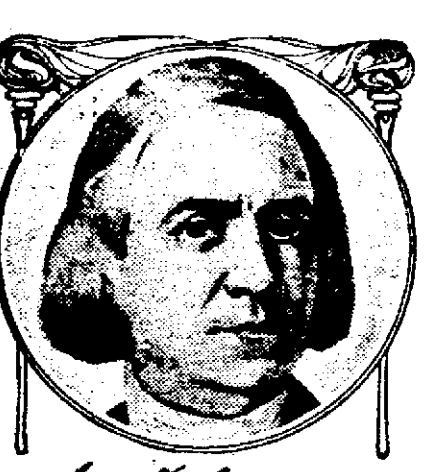

The company own, but this is at Alda, nearest railroad. After a full discussion that as there was a road coming to Upland, the elevator, stock except the town's.

The telephone 4,000 persons, in It is one of the best state. It is pure capital stock, and certain the return of the hands of the twenty trunk store building.

The officers of the enterprise do fixed rental of a telephone expense of operation. Each farmer has a phone. These long distance about $10 a month, a connection a stockholder's tolls are credited. The only paid only vote to the cost is at a minimum, that the cost.

Too many energies are not in any energy in getting a dig good of towns thing, together have report dabbled.

Seven of the Most Illustrious Signers of the Declaration of Independence

TRIBUTE TO THE SIGNERS.

By ADLAI E. STEVENSON

FROM a Fourth of July address by the Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson, former vice president of the United States, the following vivid appreciation of the signers of the Declaration of Independence is taken:

Let us turn for a moment to the Continental congress assembled in Independence hall in Philadelphia on the Fourth day of July, 1776. One act of insult and oppression upon the part of the crown toward the colonies had followed another in rapid succession until the time had come when the representatives of the colonies were to decide in favor of abject submission to tyranny or to resolve to be forever free and independent. Upon the one side were the ties of country and a common ancestry, upon the other rebellion against the mother country and the commencement of a struggle the end of which no man could foretell, upon the one side unqualified submission to the dogma of the "divine right of kings," upon the other war with the greatest nation of the globe, with independence as the prize of victory and with defeat as surely the forerunner of infamy and death.

The men who signed this Declaration were not unmindful of the grave responsibilities which they assumed. It was no rash act upon their part. They well knew that Great Britain would never permit these colonies to be wrested from her grasp without a struggle. They well knew England, with her untold wealth, her powerful army and a navy that made her mistress of the seas, was a foe to be respected even by the strongest government upon the earth. To the imperishable honor of the signers of this Declaration be it said that they did not hesitate when the dread issues of that hour were to be decided.

The gospel of universal liberty had been proclaimed to the world. For ages mankind had believed there was "a divinity which doth hedge a king." The world was now startled from its lethargy by the declaration that "resistance to tyrants is obedience to God." The new gospel proclaimed by the signers of the Declaration of Independence was in conflict with that by which the world for generations had been governed. Boldly and unequivocally it challenged the doctrine of the divine right of kings. The barons of England at the point of the sword had wrested from an unwilling tyrant that Magna Charta which for ages had been the palladium of English liberty. Again and again during the reign of the long line of the predecessors of George III, some darling of prerogative of kingly power had been grudgingly conceded to an exasperated people. But these were mere efforts to restrain within bounds, not to destroy, the one man power.

Our Declaration of Independence solemnly announced as a self evident truth that all men are born equal. It proclaimed as the cardinal feature of the social compact, as the very cornerstone of civil government, the absolute equality of all men. Government was declared to have been established among men for the benefit of the governed. What a glorious inheritance is this Declaration! What lofty statesmanship is breathed in its every utterance! Well did the great commoner of England exclaim, "The men who can so write deserve to be free."

Whence came the men who signed this Declaration? In what school of politics or philosophy did they learn these great truths? Who taught them the science of political government? From what loyal line of lawgivers did they spring? Unskilled in the diplomacy and craft that control cabinets and govern empires, they were the people raised up by an all wise Providence to overcome the obstacles and grapple with the dangers that threatened their liberties.

From the earliest struggles for the freedom of mankind to the days of Thomas Jefferson the men who in the halls of debate or on the field of battle have been the eloquent advocates of human rights or the bold defenders of human liberty have sprung from the ranks of the people.

Fellow citizens, the calm dignity with which this Revolution was inaugurated, the ties of allegiance sundered, the solemn declaration made that henceforth these colonies were to be free and independent states and the solemn appeal of the representatives of the people to posterity for the rectitude of their intentions is one of the grandest and most impressive events in history. When in all time have any other people inaugurated revolution and confronted death with such fearless dignity? No bravado or violence marred the grandeur of this great act, but a calm recital of wrongs and oppressions is followed by the decisive step and the solemn appeal to the Supreme Judge of the world.

How striking the contrast with other nations in the times of revolution! The history of the rebellion in England which preceded the commonwealth is marked by the violent disruption of the parliament and the execution of Charles I. The oppression and wrong of the French people at the close of the eighteenth century culminated in the scenes of blood that caused Paris to run with blood, and the mob that ruled the hour threw down at the foot of the throne the head of a king at its gage of battle.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

What Befell the Vain Little Dog

"Say, Prince, I want Your Advice"

AND now that we are all ready for our bedtime story," said daddy, "I am going to tell you about the vain and silly little doggie that came to grief. His name was not Fido or Gyp or Rover—nothing so common as that. It was Crazyquilt, and if that isn't a funny name for a doggie then I never heard one. But, then, he was a very funny looking dog, and when he went out for a walk everybody stopped to laugh at him. Being so vain he thought he was the best dog in the world, and the way he would pose so that they should miss none of his fine points would even make the horses laugh.

"Every time that Crazyquilt saw an animal being petted he would rush up to be petted, too, but when he was told to clear out he would snarl and say that it was awful to be so petted, that every one was jealous of you. He had a good home, for his owner thought it great fun to have such a queer looking dog, and he might have been very happy if not so foolish and vain. One day Crazyquilt was lying in the front yard wondering why all dogs were not as handsome as he when along came a pug dog with a pretty curl in the end of his tail. Oh, how jealous it made Crazyquilt!

"It is the one thing I need to set off my beautiful shape," he said to himself. "Then indeed people would stare at me. I've simply got to have one, and that's all there is about it."

"So he went up the street where lived a wise old Newfoundland, barked for him to come out, and when the two were together Crazyquilt said:

"Say, Prince, I want your advice about a little matter. While I know I am the handsomest doggie in town, I hear that to be right up to the Paris show one must have a curl in his tail. Now, like a good fellow, tell me how to manage it, will you?"

"Well, I'll tell you," he said. "I have seen the women in our place curl their hair with a hot poker. It's heat that does it, you know, and—" Crazyquilt waited to hear no more, so anxious was he to get that his tail. If heat would do it he knew where there was heat, and what he did to get it. He ran right into the parlor, where he stuck his tail in the grate fire. And he did not wait a second later and rush all around his tail afire. People outside thought the house was burning and sent for the fire engines, and when the firemen came and saw Crazyquilt blazing they doused the house on fire. He was almost drowned and was sick for weeks afterward, and when he got well he was a sensible doggie and never vain any more."

Schedule, a meeting of the Newark branch of the Red Cross, due tonight, but because of the holiday, the meeting is postponed to the 7th inst.

Trousers.
The dress has long favored the "fourth," but he has changed his opinion. Somebody tossed a pair of trousers toward him, and the doctor had to wear a new pair of trousers.

July.
The "fourth" and sane "fourth" has been adopted in Newark, and the boys are now "celebrating" the day of fireworks and the "fourth" is a fortunate nature occurred.

S.S. CURES ECZEMA, ACNE, TETTER, POISON OAK, ETC.

Acne, Tetters, Poison Oak, Pimples, etc., show that some unclean or acid impurity is diseasing and corrupting the circulation, and of applying nourishment and strength to the skin, it is considered out of its acid and unhealthy accumulations. Salves, washes, and other external applications, may relieve some of the itching and discomforts caused by skin diseases, but such treatment has no effect on the blood, where the seat of irritation lies, and therefore cannot remove the cause must be driven from the circulation. It goes into the circulation and removes every particle of impurity. It is the best and quickest remedy, because it is the greatest of all. LATEST TYPE OF UNITED STATES CRUISER

The United States cruiser, "Maryland," shown here, is the largest type of armored cruiser now being built for Uncle Sam's navy. The "Maryland" and her sister ships do not carry as heavy armament as the battleships, but are built largely for speed. A model of the "Maryland" will be displayed at the Ohio Valley Exposition in Cincinnati from Aug. 29 to Sept. 24.

COTTON CONSUMERS TO DISPLAY PRODUCTS IN THIS CIRCUS

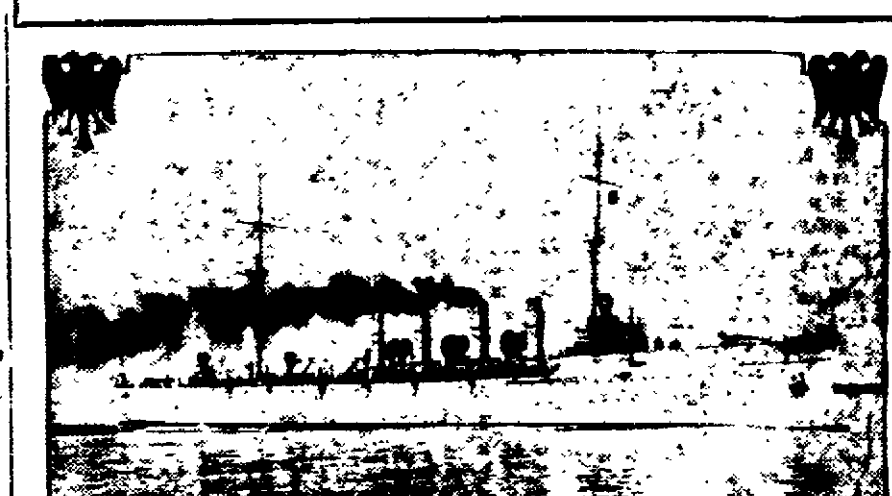

Interesting Adjunct to Southern States Resources Exhibit

Cincinnati, O. —(Special)—What will undoubtedly prove an interesting adjunct to the Southern States Resources Exhibit at the Ohio Valley Exposition, to be held here from Aug. 29 to Sept. 24, will be the display of the latest manufacturing firms of Cincinnati. This corporation, besides being a general cotton factor for years, has recently been giving much attention to the manufacturing of cotton mattresses, until now their plant for the production of these sleeping-room necessities, both in the matter of quantity and quality, exceeds that of any other like business in the United States. This firm consumes hundreds of tons of cotton annually, using from the finest through the next two grades in the making of mattresses, which find a ready sale in America and abroad. This firm has done some experimenting with foreign-grown cotton, but has found the American product far superior for its purposes, and so uses nothing but the home-grown articles in the manufacture of its tens of thousands of mattresses annually. Other articles of domestic use of which cotton forms the principal portion also are manufactured by this firm, giving it the distinction of being one of the largest consumers of cotton in the Middle West, and certainly the largest in the Ohio Valley. It is the purpose of this firm to display a full line of the cotton goods it manufactures, together with an interesting display of some of their products in the making in order to show just how the cotton is handled before it reaches the stage of a finished article. While this display will hardly become a portion of the Southern States exhibit, it will be located conveniently to the 21,000 square feet of floor space which have been set aside for the Southland's use, so that visitors may be able to follow the evolution of the cotton from the boll to all kinds and classes of utilities, whether manufactured in the South or made in the North.

EPICURES WILL TRY COTTONSEED FLOUR

Cincinnati, O. —(Special)—An order has been sent by the management of the Ohio Valley Exposition to a milling company of Jonesboro, Ark., for samples of cotton seed flour and for examples of the culinary results of the use of this novel and recently discovered meal. It is the object of the Exposition management to secure, if possible, a complete exhibit of the cotton seed flour industry, this being along the lines of the objects of the Exposition of showing the public the latest and best products of its factory field and farm, and of presenting these products in a most attractive manner. According to reports from the South, the cotton seed flour industry promises to become a most important one. Texas was the first state to become interested in this novel substitute for wheat flour, and sent samples of it, together with various kinds of cake and pastry made of it, to the Texas congressmen at Washington, where the new article of food received the highest praise from epicures. Since then much experimenting has been done with the meal, and the conclusion reached that the best results are reached by mixing it with about fifty per cent of ordinary flour, thereby reducing the unusual richness with which the meal is imbued. Its nutritive value is far above that of the best patent winter wheat flour, and it is said to lend itself particularly well to cakes of all kinds. One of the rare delicacies now being made of the cotton seed meal is an improved kind of ginger snap.

FIRST AMERICAN TURBINE CRUISER

The United States cruiser "Birmingham," shown in the above picture, is the first war vessel built by the American Government with turbine engine equipment. A model of the "Birmingham" will be shown at the Ohio Valley Exposition in Cincinnati, Aug. 29 to Sept. 24.

	A different kind of phonograph horn has been designed by an Arkansas man, and by means of it the sound from the cabinet cannot only be amplified, but can be regulated to an extent not possible with most other types, if with any. The sound-conveying tube runs off from the center of the box as usual, but at the end is another joint, which revolves on the first, and at the top of which is a reflector or hemispherical megaphone, with a sound reflector inside. This sound reflector is adjustable and can be moved backward or forward, thus making the volume of sound greater or less, as the case may be. The diaphragm in the resonator has the tendency, of course, to magnify the sound, and with this attachment set at its highest pitch a phonograph can be played in the open air and be distinctly heard with in a large radius. The upper end of the sound-conveying tube being revolvable, the mouth of the horn may be turned in any direction.	Dark coat lost between Andrew Deeds and Jacob Showman's. PEOPLE'S PULPIT...

Sermon by
CHARLES T. RUSSELL,
Pastor, Brooklyn
Tabernacle.

The Glorious Liberty of the Children of God.

"The creature also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God" (Romans viii, 21)

rection, when "This corruptible must put on incorruption." Then our minds will receive new, perfect spirit bodies, through which they can operate perfectly, and exercise, to the full, true liberty, true freedom.

The full liberty of the Children of God, therefore, is not attained in this present life, but will be attained in the resurrection, when we shall be perfected in the Master's likeness. And in this connection it is well to note that this is the liberty of the angels also—liberty of freedom from sin, from the power and domination of error and superstition and weaknesses through heredity. All the angels were thus created, and father Adam and mother Eve also were thus created, in the full likeness of the children of God. Some lost their liberty by disobedience; they became slaves to sin and death, and have been more or less bound by these conditions from then until now. So, then, "The liberty of the children of God" is absolute perfection—the ideal condition for which the Church is striving.

The Groaning Creation.
The Apostle in our text is discussing the condition of the world of mankind in general. He reminds us that "the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now" (Romans viii, 22). In the nineteenth verse he tells us what they are waiting for, namely, "The earnest expectation of the (human) creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God." The world of mankind is now enslaved to sin and death; they cannot help themselves; they must wait until God's time for setting them free from this bondage. God's time will come in connection with the glorification of the Church, and her manifestation with her Lord in the glories of his Messianic Kingdom. Then the groaning creation will be set free from the bondage of sin and death, under which it now groans and travaileth.

Made Subject to Vanity.
The Apostle reminds us that the slavery of mankind to sin and death came upon the world through vanity, or frailty, unwillingly. Our frailties are the result of sin and of the Divine sentence. Father Adam was disobedient and our Creator, in sentencing him to death, made the dying condition such that all of his children would be involved with him, as sinners, through heredity, and thus sharers in his dying condition. But God did not subject our race to this dying condition, this slavery to sin and death, with the intention of blasting the hope of humanity to all eternity, much less with the expectation of sending Adam and his race to eternal torture. Rather, we are to understand that when God pronounced the death sentence upon our race, intermingled with it was the hope, the desire, on the part of the Creator, that the result of that death sentence should not be man's absolute and eternal destruction, after the manner of the brute beast. In the Divine purpose there ningles a hope—a desire and intention that all of Adam's race who will learn the lesson of righteousness may ultimately be delivered from the bondage of sin and death, into the true liberty of children of God. It was to secure, in God's due time, for Adam and his race, liberty from sin and death, that Christ died for our sins.

The Creation to Be Delivered.
Our minds now turn to the liberty which, by God's grace, came to this nation in 1776; and, similarly, some of our nation look to the liberty that was accorded them by the "Emancipation Proclamation." But these emancipations are nothing in comparison with the great Emancipation which God purposes shall come to all the world of mankind through Christ. Enslaved to sin, through Father Adam's disobedience, "Sold under sin," the purchase of the race by the precious blood of Christ is to be announced by the Great Judge who pronounced the sentence. This is a glorious hope, a glorious prospect, but as yet it is merely a prospect. Only the true Church has as yet been set free; and she waits for perfect freedom through the "First Resurrection." "The whole world lieth in the Wicked One," and still are slaves to sin and death conditions in every way. The arrangement of Divine Providence for this great liberation of the captives of sin and death is wonderful! God's Kingdom is to be established and to exercise his reign or rule of righteousness amongst men for a thousand years! Satan is to be bound during that period, that he may deceive and entrap humanity no more. The knowledge of God and the assistance of Divine power are to be extended to every creature, bond and free, rich and poor, of every tongue and nation. Not only will the living nations enjoy this privilege of release from slavery to sin and death, through the great Redeemer, but, additionally, all who are in their graves will have the glorious opportunity of being awakened and of being brought to a knowledge of the Truth, that they may be saved by laying hold thereon—by conforming heart and life to the rules of the Kingdom of God's dear Son, and thus attaining eternal life.

"Liberty of Children of God."
St. Paul speaks in our text of the "liberty of the children of God." This, primarily, signifies our desertion from our taskmaster, sin, and the surrender of our wills to God and righteousness. It means a repudiation of liberty to do wrong and the grasping, through Christ, of liberty from bondage to sin. But, as the Apostle elsewhere explains, we find it impossible to conquer fully the fallen flesh. We will find it impossible for the "New Creatures" to attain the full liberty of Sonship under present conditions, because, as St. Paul declares, "The flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the two are contrary the one to the other" (Galatians v, 17). We have a constant fight to resist the enslaving influences of sin—to maintain our liberty as sons of God. The victory will be fully attained until our resur-

Truly, that will be a glorious epoch, when the great Deliverer "every knee shall bow and every tongue confess to the glory of God." It will be grand, indeed, to witness during the thousand years of Christ's reign the gradual liberation of the slaves of sin and death—their gradual attainment of full mastery over their weaknesses and imperfections by the assistance of the great Emancipator! Many of these poor slaves went down to the tomb in fearful anticipation of a future of eternal torment. How glad they will be when they awake from the sleep of death, realizing it as only a momentary interlude! They will be advised of the fact—that the Redemption price has been paid by Jesus and that, therefore, he is fully qualified and empowered to set them free in every sense of the word—not only from the condemnation of death, but also from the actual blight of death—the mental, moral and physical weaknesses, which are elements of the death sentence.

True, the Scriptures intimate that all will not appreciate the privilege of emancipation from the dominion of sin and death. It is not for us to speculate as to the number who will ultimately be set free. It is sufficient for us to know that all will be brought to a full opportunity of attaining or rejecting the emancipation privileges. All will be free in the sense that none will die the Second Death, except by his own willful, deliberate sympathy with sin and rejection of the righteous and liberal terms of the Great Liberator.

Not Only They but Ourselves.
Pursuing the subject, the Apostle marks the Church of this Gospel Age as separate and distinct from the world. He shows that those who receive the begetting of the Holy Spirit now, are already children of God, and already enjoying full freedom, full liberation from the condemnation of sin and death. He says, "And not only they (the groaning creation), the world, but ourselves also (the spirit-begotten Church of this age), which have the first fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption (deliverance) of our Body"—"the Body of Christ, which is the Church" (Verse 23; 1 Corinthians xii, 27).

The Apostle is here pointing out that while the world is groaning under its share of the Adamic condemnation, believers in Christ also groan—though in a different manner. The world groans and travaileth, waiting for the Church's manifestation—"the manifestation of the Sons of God." The Church groans, not outwardly, but inwardly, while waiting for something different. The world is waiting for the manifestation of the Sons of God, because "Now are we the Sons of God" (1 John iii, 2). Our salvation will come, therefore, before this manifestation of the Sons of God, which will bring release to the world. The elect Church is waiting for the adoption, the deliverance of the Body in the First Resurrection. Our Heavenly Father has already granted us the spirit of adoption whereby we can cry, "Abba, Father," but our adoption is not yet accomplished, completed. We are already set free in our minds from the Law of sin and death, but will not be entirely free until our adoption shall be completed by our resurrection change. The adoption of the Church by the Father will be her full entrance into the liberty of the Sons of God, her full entrance into perfection, "changed in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye" (1 Cor. xv, 52).

The Apostle continues the same thought, pointing out that the salvation of the Church at the present time is not her actual or complete salvation, but a hope-salvation or a faith-salvation. He points out that what we hope for is to be brought unto us at the revelation of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, at his second advent. He points out that, in the meantime, if we have this hope as an anchor to our souls, it will lead us to be patient in waiting for the glorious things of the Divine arrangement. It will lead us to wait patiently for the Lord's time for our own blessing and further opportunity for service in bestowing God's blessings upon the world. We are to wait for our deliverance, with patience, and in this we shall be exercising and developing one of the graces of the holy Spirit necessary for our perfecting. It is not sufficient that we learn to love liberty; we must learn full submission to the Divine will and to receive our liberty, in kind and in time, according to the good pleasure of the Father.

The expression, "The redemption of our Body," does not refer to the Lord's people, individually, for each of us will have a separate body in the resurrection. The Apostle's thought is that of the Scriptures in general, namely, that there is one Body, which is the Church; and that, so far as our complete adoption by the Father is concerned, this must be done in unison; he will not receive the Church separately, member by member, but altogether, at the close of this age. Then so many as shall have fought the good fight of faith and finished their course, so many as shall be found worthy a place with our Lord in his throne will be "changed" in the "First Resurrection." These will be presented together as one glorious Body, or "Church of the living God, whose names are written in heaven."

So far, then, as the world is concerned, let us think less of assisting them to individual and personal liberty than to freedom from the bondage of sin. Let us seek to bring the world to the point of full freedom, and we will have secured the full prize of liberty for all the world. Let us remember that to attain this we must become members of the glorified Kingdom, which will extend this blessing to all the families of earth.

RECIPE FOR A QUIET FOURTH.

"T's the Fourth of July, and I simply can't keep As quiet as when I'm in bed and asleep. If I didn't do things to stir up a riot They'd call in the doctor 'cause I was so quiet. I don't see why folks should object to the noise Of crackers and rockets shot off by the boys."

WHEN THE CANNONS AND CRACKERS GO "BOOM!"
Why, when they had battle there must have been more Than we can turn out of the rattle and roar.

Besides, when the cannons and crackers go "boom!" There's one way to make it as still as the tomb— Just stick in your fingers and stop up your ears. It can't be a noise when there's nobody hears.

"I BELIEVE in the creed of the Scriptures— The gospel of good will and peace. That swords should be turned into plowshares An' the warlike o' nations should cease. But when comes the Fourth with its memories O' victories grand, I opine Char's one day at least when I'm takin' A little gunpowder in mine."

A LITTLE GUNPOWDER IN MINE
So slaughter your brother is fearful. My spirit revolts at the thought. 'Tis better to practice the lessons That in the good gospel are taught. But if I had 'a' been with those patriots Whose names now in history shine I feel that I, too, 'd have taken A little gunpowder in mine. I know we've the grandest old nation That's set in the earth's diadem. Our fathers secured it by fightin' (I wish I'd 'a' been 'long with them). I'm peaceful an' ain't no ambition Among the world's warriors to shine. But I'm ready to take, if it's needful, A little gunpowder in mine."

Chillicothe 6, Marion 3.

Lancaster, July 2—Lancaster made the Molders look like a bunch of school boys Saturday and played rings around the bunch without any trouble. The game was a very slow affair with the exception of the many bingles the Lanks got. At the end of the melee the score stood 11 to 0 in favor of the Lanks.

Ray Hollingsworth was the hurler for the Molders and the way the Lancaster crowd got to his delivery was a shame. He was pounded all over the lot for doubles and triples, and 14 hits were the day's spoils.

Starch McGuire did the heaving for the Lanks and pitched his first game in many moons. He was a bit wild but held the Molders to two hits and was steady in tight places. In the second inning the Molders had the bases full with no one out and failed to score.

The feature of the game was the batting of Ford and Hoffman, who walloped the pill in every direction. In the first round with the bases full Ford hit one for three sacks, scoring the bunch. Blake at first played a grand game and received all kinds of throws without an error. The score:

BABES ARE BEST.
OUTPLAYED DIGGERS
Chillicothe, July 4.—The Babes outplayed Marion Saturday and won easily. Cooperider pitched good ball except in two innings, while Goulart was hit hard. Ayette, the Marion shortstop, was taken ill in the fifth inning, and was compelled to leave the game.

Chillicothe	6	10	3
Marion	3	5	4
Batteries—Cooperider and Halley; Goulart and Reilly. Umpire—Phelan.

EXCITING BATTLE WON BY PORTSMOUTH
Portsmouth, July 4.—In an exciting 15-inning game, Portsmouth won Saturday's game from Lima. Houtz of Lima made five of the seven hits secured by his team off Miller. Portsmouth 2 10 1
Lima 1 7 2
Batteries—Miller and Weinburg, Riley and Tector. Umpire—Mason.

ONLY ONE HIT BY INDEPENDENTS

The Hermanns easily defeated the Independents in Sunday's game. After scattering them out by a score of 8 to 0, he pitched seven innings and not a hit was secured off him, the solitary bingle being made off his successor. The score:
Hermanns 8 11 1
Independents 0 1 2
Batteries—Allen and Lake; Wright and Harris.

IF JUSTICE FULLER DIED SUDDENLY TODAY AT BAR HARBOR, MAINE

Bar Harbor, Maine, July 4—Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller of the United States Supreme Court, died suddenly of heart failure at Bar Harbor at 6 o'clock this morning. It was several hours before the news of the justice's death was made public.

Melville W. Fuller was born in Augusta, Me., Feb. 1, 1833. He took the oath of office Oct. 8, 1888. Justice Fuller was admitted to the bar in 1855, then moved to Chicago in 1856 and was a delegate to the democratic national conventions of 1864, 1872, 1876 and 1880. Justice Fuller was appointed Chief Justice by President Cleveland.

Cambridge Boy Killed at Buckeye Lake Park by Fall From Toboggan

Donnelly, aged 19 years, a sheet mill worker of Cambridge, Ohio, was killed at Buckeye Lake Park, July 4th, by falling off the top of the toboggan slide swimming beach. The accident resulted in death 15 minutes after the boy was upon his head. Dr. Kramer of Hebron, was called, but the young man died before the doctor arrived. The coroner was then summoned.

Donnelly's father arrived in Newark on B. & O. Train No. 103 this afternoon. He did not know until he reached Newark that the boy's injuries had been fatal. The father was almost heartbroken by the news. The dead lad was his son.

FATHER COMES FOR REMAINS.
Special to the Advocate.

Cambridge, O., July 4—John Donnelly who was killed today at Buckeye Lake Park, falling from a toboggan slide, was an employe at the sheet mill here. His father arrived in Newark this afternoon.

A BIG CROWD AT BUCKEYE LAKE FOR THE FOURTH

HOTELS UNABLE TO ACCOMMODATE PEOPLE WHO APPLIED FOR ROOMS.

Early Cars Monday Morning Crowded—Club Races Feature of the Day.

Buckeye Lake Park, July 4—The "standing room only" sign was out at Buckeye Lake Park, Saturday night. The hotels turned away many more people than they could accommodate and many private cottages were asked to take strangers. In many places people slept upon the benches in the park while others unable to find a bed or a bench put in the night fishing. The fish were nice about it too, and enjoyed themselves to be caught in large numbers.

On Sunday the traction line brought crowds from Newark and Columbus and in spite of the threatening weather conditions this morning the people continued to arrive in large numbers on trains from both the east and the west. It is a jolly well-laden crowd and everything is moving in good order.

This morning Postmaster Ed R. Hindstaff had over 1500 conveyance cards to send out of the Buckeye Lake post office.

The big feature of the park today is the Buckeye Lake Yacht club's regatta. Many prizes are offered for the races, among them a $500 cup offered by the Ohio Electric Railway company. The races include power, tow and sail boats and there will be swimming contests as a side-line. Yesterday the process of swimming went over to Shell Beach in a row boat and swim back to the Park one hour in 14 minutes.

mouth. At the break Jack hooked to head with left and then left to face and then sent left to head without damage. Jeff lands hard left to jaw and right eye in a cleverly at the bell. Johnson's round.

Round Twelve.
Jim ducked under a left cut. Johnson clinched and landed at the crowd, kidding Jeff. Jeff's right eye is almost closed. Left on a clinch sent three hard rights to the head and upper cuts mouth with a right. They break and Johnson blocks. Left to the stomach and upper cuts to the mouth and head. Johnson lands a hard right. Jeff is bleeding badly and is taking punishment. Johnson's round by a considerable margin.

Round Thirteen.
They come together and Jeff hooks left to ear. Johnson lands a winner. It was a knockout. Johnson sends left to Jim's swollen mouth, but missed a left upper. He upper cut with right in clinch. They break and Johnson sends two straight lefts to mouth. They clinch and Jim sends three slight lefts to center. They come together in a furious rally and Johnson sent three left jabs to face, repeating a moment later. He then sent a left upper cut to jaw and hooked ear with right. Jeff is wobbly and can hardly see. Jack sends left to right eye and repeats with a cross to head. Jack sends left to head and they are fiddling at the bell.

Round Fourteen.

Round Fifteen.
They came to a clinch. Johnson sent left to face. Johnson jabs nose with left by five punches. They clinch. Johnson swings twice and knocks Jeff down with a series of rights and lefts to jaw. Jim went through the ropes. A series of lefts and rights to the jaw put Jeffries out.

GREAT INTEREST IN BIG BATTLE

Great interest in the Reno battle was manifested in Newark by all classes of citizens. Crowds stood in front of the Advocate building all afternoon and the Advocate telephones were kept busy answering inquiries from every section of the city and country.

Jeffries was a prime favorite in Newark but the betting on the result was unusually light. So far as known no large local bets were made.

West Main street was blocked with people who came to see the Advocate bulletins and hear the fight returns read through a megaphone. Photographer Henpsted took a picture of the big crowd.

NEGROES WERE WHIPPED.
Jackson, Miss., July 4—Searching for the trail of the negroes who killed Luther Buckley, a white man, early in the week, have cut the telephone wires to Harrisville and communication with that place is cut off. The negro said to have been killed was not Jim Brady. One negro states that he was lynched, while another states that he was severely whipped. Two other negroes it is stated, were also whipped.

GIRL'S FALL IS FATAL

Marysville, July 4—Miss Ercil Poole, the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Poole, died yesterday from the effects of an injury to her head, caused by a fall Tuesday.

Experiments made last year on the Swedish railways in regard to the possibility of employing peat as a fuel for locomotives of various types have not given the results which were hoped for.

FORMER POSTAL CLERK IN TROUBLE

Zanesville, O., July 4—W. W. Hoskins, a clerk in the post office, during the administration of former Postmaster E. B. Roemer was arrested by United States Marshal McAllister, at Marietta, Saturday, and taken to Columbus, where he was arraigned on charges of embezzling $1000 of the post office funds. Hoskins is a 30-year-old man, married, and has a family. He was arrested at his home in Zanesville. Hoskins admits that he took the money, which he used for his personal expenses.

Returns of the Jeffries-Johnson fight will be received at Schaller Bros.

BODY IN LAKE

Sandusky, July 4—The body of Louis Benson, 59 years old, a teamster, missing since Friday, was recovered Sunday morning when a steamer pulling into the harbor from Sandusky found the body in the water and brought the body to the top. It is not known whether it is a suicide or accidental drowning case.

An 11:30 a. m. is the final result of a meeting between the negotiators.

SNAPSHOTS AT CELEBRITIES

J. W. Folk, Who Aspires to the Presidency.

Joseph W. Folk, former governor of Missouri, is an avowed candidate for presidential honors. At a recent banquet in St. Louis where Democrats of all factions gathered he announced the principles on which he will seek the presidential nomination on the Democratic ticket in 1912.

Mr. Folk said: "The doctrine of equal rights should be a living, vital and controlling force in the government. The Democratic party should insist upon the stamping out of graft and corruption from every department, the eradication of all special favors, bonuses, subsidies and a tariff for any purpose other than revenue."

Other principles named by Mr. Folk were the preservation of the right of the states to set government, the restriction of American territory to the western hemisphere, the extension of trade by revising the restriction upon commerce, an income tax, the election of United States senators by direct vote and opposition to the domination in public affairs of special interests.

Former Governor Folk has had a meteoric career in politics. Although but forty-one years of age, he has served four years as governor of the great state of Missouri, his term ending last year. He gained great popularity while prosecuting attorney of St. Louis, sending a number of legislative bribery to state prison. He is a native of Tennessee.

Gaynor as a Physician.

"In Mayor Gaynor's early days on the bench," said a Brooklyn lawyer, "a prisoner's counsel said in the course of his speech: 'Medical witnesses will testify that my unfortunate client is suffering from kleptomania, and your honor, you know what that is.'"

"Yes," said Judge Gaynor. "I do. It is a disease the people pay me to cure."—New York Sun

New Minister to Morocco.

Frederick W. Carpenter, the new United States minister to Morocco, has for more than ten years been private secretary to President Taft. When Mr. Taft was head of the Philippines commission he called to America for a competent stenographer. Carpenter, who was then employed by a San Francisco law firm, sailed on the next steamer for Manila. Since that time he has been Mr. Taft's private secretary, constantly at the elbow of his chief on his way to the presidency.

A desire for a change on the part of Mr. Carpenter influenced the president to name him for the post at Morocco. The new minister is a native of Minnesota, but most of his boyhood was Elyria, O., July 4.—Nearly 1000 veterans of the Spanish-American war arrived in Elyria Sunday for the seventh annual encampment of the Ohio Department of the United Spanish War Veterans' Association. The visitors found Elyria decorated for their benefit.

The encampment opened Sunday afternoon with a patriotic service at the First Congregational church, at which former Governor Myron T. Herrick of Cleveland presented the local camp with a stand of colors.

Last night there was a reception at the encampment headquarters in honor of Department Commander Sylvester Garver, Department President Mrs. Fanning and Clarence H. Hutchinson, the Gran Gu Gu Gissismo of the Military Order of the Serpent, a side degree of the Spanish War Veterans' Association.

Commander Waiton of the local Spanish War Veterans' camp, Post Commander Rosebrough, Crawford and Blizard and three other members, left early Sunday morning for Elyria and will endeavor to secure the state meeting for Newark next year.

INSURGENT REPUBLICANS WIN IN IOWA

Des Moines, Ia., July 4.—According to the returns from all the counties in Iowa, which held conventions to select delegates to the state convention August 3, the progressives will control that gathering by a majority of 150.

These returns show that the progressives secured 771 delegates, while the stand-patters got 622. The convention will be made up of 1,393 delegates, and unless powerful influences are brought to bear the state convention will endorse the Iowa Senators and incumbent Congressmen for their work in Washington.

The progressives chose delegations from 15 counties. Five counties divided their delegations, leaving the stand-patters but 36 counties. Governor Carroll, the stand-patter candidate for governor, carried 54 counties at the primary, as against 55 by Garst, the progressive candidate.

Resolutions adopted by a number of counties indicate that the State convention may take similar action to that of the Indiana gathering. These resolutions especially, heartily and emphatically endorse Senators Dilliver and Cammiller and the insurgent Congressmen of Washington. Through their work the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill is given a slap, in that they were commended for fighting it.

The resolutions endorse President Taft in so far as he has made effort to carry out progressive principles. The resolutions urge the President to remove from his Cabinet any members who have attempted to read out of the Republican party other Republicans whose only offense has been to insist that Congress redeem the pledges made at the last National convention.

The principles of conservation as laid down by Theodore Roosevelt, and as at present expressed by Gifford Pinchot were also endorsed by many counties.

New York, July 4.—Champ Clark, Democratic leader in the house, who was the principal speaker at the Tammany Hall celebration here today, declared that the Payne-Aldrich bill was iniquitous and said that the Republican party's promise to revise the tariff downward had been violated.

"It is any less dishonest to secure offices under false pretense than to obtain money in that felonious manner," he declared. "A man," he said, "must be a complete idiot to believe that the tariff is not directly responsible to a large extent for the necessities of living. That it is responsible for the high price of manufactured articles is clearly demonstrated by the fact that manufacturers came to Washington in droves to obtain the tariff rates of the Dingley bill or to increase them. This high cost of living is driving 15,000,000 American families to the British North America. Instead of being a party of protection the Republican party is a party of extortion."

Somewhat or other, the unexpected news is a disappointment to those who are expecting it.

These returns show that the progressives secured 771 delegates, while the stand-patters got 622. The convention will be made up of 1,393 delegates, and unless powerful influences are brought to bear the state convention will endorse the Iowa Senators and incumbent Congressmen for their work in Washington.

The progressives chose delegations from 15 counties. Five counties divided their delegations, leaving the stand-patters but 36 counties. Governor Carroll, the stand-patter candidate for governor, carried 54 counties at the primary, as against 55 by Garst, the progressive candidate.

Resolutions adopted by a number of counties indicate that the State convention may take similar action to that of the Indiana gathering. These resolutions especially, heartily and emphatically endorse Senators Dilliver and Cammiller and the insurgent Congressmen of Washington. Through their work the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill is given a slap, in that they were commended for fighting it.

The resolutions endorse President Taft in so far as he has made effort to carry out progressive principles. The resolutions urge the President to remove from his Cabinet any members who have attempted to read out of the Republican party other Republicans whose only offense has been to insist that Congress redeem the pledges made at the last National convention.

The principles of conservation as laid down by Theodore Roosevelt, and as at present expressed by Gifford Pinchot were also endorsed by many counties.

New York, July 4.—Champ Clark, Democratic leader in the house, who was the principal speaker at the Tammany Hall celebration here today, declared that the Payne-Aldrich bill was iniquitous and said that the Republican party's promise to revise the tariff downward had been violated.

"It is any less dishonest to secure offices under false pretense than to obtain money in that felonious manner," he declared. "A man," he said, "must be a complete idiot to believe that the tariff is not directly responsible to a large extent for the necessities of living. That it is responsible for the high price of manufactured articles is clearly demonstrated by the fact that manufacturers came to Washington in droves to obtain the tariff rates of the Dingley bill or to increase them. This high cost of living is driving 15,000,000 American families to the British North America. Instead of being a party of protection the Republican party is a party of extortion."

Somewhat or other, the unexpected news is a disappointment to those who are expecting it.

Elyria, O., July 4.—Nearly 1000 veterans of the Spanish-American war arrived in Elyria Sunday for the seventh annual encampment of the Ohio Department of the United Spanish War Veterans' Association. The visitors found Elyria decorated for their benefit.

The encampment opened Sunday afternoon with a patriotic service at the First Congregational church, at which former Governor Myron T. Herrick of Cleveland presented the local camp with a stand of colors.

Last night there was a reception at the encampment headquarters in honor of Department Commander Sylvester Garver, Department President Mrs. Fanning and Clarence H. Hutchinson, the Gran Gu Gu Gissismo of the Military Order of the Serpent, a side degree of the Spanish War Veterans' Association.

Commander Waiton of the local Spanish War Veterans' camp, Post Commander Rosebrough, Crawford and Blizard and three other members, left early Sunday morning for Elyria and will endeavor to secure the state meeting for Newark next year.

INSURGENT REPUBLICANS WIN IN IOWA

Des Moines, Ia., July 4.—According to the returns from all the counties in Iowa, which held conventions to select delegates to the state convention August 3, the progressives will control that gathering by a majority of 150.

These returns show that the progressives secured 771 delegates, while the stand-patters got 622. The convention will be made up of 1,393 delegates, and unless powerful influences are brought to bear the state convention will endorse the Iowa Senators and incumbent Congressmen for their work in Washington.
